MEETING OF THE BOARD OF TRADE

MANY MATTERS OF INTEREST

Busy Session Demonstrates Broad Scope of Work Carried on by the Board

Monday evening's session of the Board of Trade demonstrated conclusively that the organization deserves the united support of every citizen of Sierra Madre. The wide range of interests involved in the matters which came up for consideration showed that fact more plainly than anything else could do.

Attendance was good, though not so large as it should be regularly. President Welsher presided and called first for the reports of standing committees. F. H. Hartman, chairman of the advertising committee, reported that the publication of a booklet or folder had been delegated to M. H. Bridle as a special committee, that the copy was now in the hands of the printer and would be ready within a week. George E. Morgridge, chairman of the entertainment committee, requested that the board agree upon a date for the annual banquet which had been postponed from February because the members of the entertainment committee were busy with the benefit entertainment. It was thought best to set the date after Lent and April 28 was finally decided upon.

J. A. Patterson reported for the special committee in charge of the benefit entertainment. Net profits of about $60 resulted from the two evening performances, the amount having undoubtedly been cut down from $30 to $50 by the inclement weather which prevailed both nights. He said many requests had come in for a repetition of the event, but the committee felt unwilling to act without instructions from the Board of Trade. Upon motion of F. D. R. Moote the committee was requested to have the entertainment repeated, March 23 being the date set. Special votes of thanks were extended to J. A. Patterson, who bore the brunt of the work of preparation, and to Guy H. Johnson, who also served on the committee though not a member of the board.

The Fourth Annual Sierra Madre-Mr. Wilson race will be held on Wednesday, April 12. Secretary Paterson reported that entry blanks had been printed and placed with the sporting goods houses in Los Angeles as has been customary. The first prize this year will be a gold watch, in addition to the inscription of the winner's name on the big Richard K. Fox gold medal which goes to the winner of three races. The three events already held have been won by different men each year.

Upon motion of Captain Osgood, Secretary Patterson was authorized to have an appropriate sign painted to designate the location of the secretary's office. This will not only be a convenience for strangers who are looking for the secretary, but will doubtless suggest to many casual visitors the idea of inquiring for information and advertising matter regarding Sierra Madre, thus increasing the efficiency of the Board of Trade as a promotion agency.

J. C. Dickson presented the matter of street trees, with special reference to those streets where young trees have been planted recently and part of the trees have died. While this work was done at private expense he thought it would be fair for the city to undertake to replace the dead trees in such cases. He also favored proceeding with uniform tree planting wherever possible and called upon Attorney Moote for an explanation of the workings of the so-called Vroman act under which the work may be ordered by the city and the cost assessed against the abutting property. The chairman was authorized to appoint a committee to confer with the city trustees regarding the matter. He appointed Messrs. F. D. R. Moote, J. A. Osgood and J. C. Dickson.

M. H. Bridle reported for the special committee in charge of the Sierra Madre exhibit at the Land and Products Exposition which opens next Friday in Shrine Auditorium, Los Angeles. A relief map has been prepared by City Engineer W. F. Bixby which will show as nothing else could, the matchless situation of Sierra Madre on the foothills above the San Gabriel Valley. An artist has been secured to paint a large picture which will give an excellent idea of the Sierra Madre landscape, to be hung as a background for the exhibit. Sierra Madre fruit will be shown and the Sierra Madre Vintage company will make a showing of their products. The Woman's club will provide attendants from among its own members so that there will be some one in charge of the exhibit all the time.

The matter of the recent change in the evening car schedule was brought up, together with the inconvenience caused to many of the commuters. It was thought that the Pacific Electric company might be induced to make some very slight changes to accommodate local patrons. The changes suggested were to have the 5:15 car leave Los Angeles at 5:30 as formerly, and the 6:05 car leave at 6:15. Upon motion, President Welsher instructed the transportation committee to see what can be done and appointed F. D. R. Moote in place of J. A. Madden as a member of the committee.

Complaint having been made that the Edison company had not made the promised 20 per cent. reduction in lighting rates it was suggested that the committee, of which N. W. Tarr was chairman, be instructed to reopen the matter. The company did reduce the price of electricity from 12 1-2 cents to 10 cents a kilowatt, but this 20 per cent. reduction is offset by the discontinuance of the 5 per cent. rebate for payment of bills before the 10th of the month, making the reduction only 15 per cent. from the former rate. It was also suggested that residents of Sierra Madre Villa are now being served from Pasadena at 5 cents per kilowatt and that possibly Sierra Madre could secure service from that city at the lower rate.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter McKenzie of Spokane, Washington, are visiting at the home of Mr. McKenzie's sister, Dr. Eliza Merrell on North Sunnyside avenue.

WILL OBSERVE ANNIVERSARY

Special services have been planned to commemorate the quarter-centennial of the organization of the First Congregational Church, which falls on March 27. Services on Sunday, the 26th, will be arranged appropriately for the occasion with special music both morning and evening. In the morning the sermon will be delivered by the pastor, Rev. James M. Campbell, D. D., and in the evening the speaker will be Dr. Warren F. Day, pastor emeritus of the First Congregational church of Los Angeles. A social meeting and re-union of former members is planned for Monday evening, March 27. At this service Prof. Colcord of Pomona college will probably speak. Prof. Colcord is well known in Sierra Madre, having acted as supply pastor for the church, as well as preaching here many other times. A paper embodying history and reminiscence will be read by Mr. J. C. Dickson, clerk of the church. There will be special music and refreshments will be served by the ladies of the church.

WILL REPEAT ENTERTAINMENT

At the request of the Board of Trade and of a large number of other people the benefit entertainment given on March 2 and 3 will be repeated next Thursday evening, March 23. The requests for a repetition came from many who witnessed the performance as well as from those who were kept away by the inclement weather. The operetta, "Trial by Jury," which made such a hit, will be given just as before, with Miss Gertrude Cook in the role of the fair plaintiff, J. L. Stevenson as the judge, Captain J. A. Osgood as the defendant, Alex Stone as counsel pleading the cause of the defendant, K. G. Sawday as the curt usher and Guy H. Johnson in the enviable role of foreman of the jury.

The first part of the program will be considerably changed. There will be a new musical number, and a new illustrated lecture with new pictures. Miss Blumer will be heard again in her inimitable portrayal of a game of bridge played by a talkative woman. Miss Portia Ulrich will give her mirth provoking reading entitled "Higher Culture in Dixie" and Miss Margaret Allen will again give her fancy dance which captivated every one by its dainty grace.

Following the entertainment the floor will be cleared for dancing.

NOT TOO LATE TO GET BUSY

FLOWER SHOW SUGGESTIONS

Committee in Charge Urges Every One to Prepare and Register Some Sort of Exhibit

It is only a few weeks until the First Annual Flower Festival will open at the Woman's Club House. Are you doing all within your power to make it the greatest success in the history of Sierra Madre?

This Festival is of interest to every man, woman and child in Sierra Madre, and to "the stranger that is within our gates."

To the man—because he would show to all comers, our beautiful streets, our comfortable homes, our fruitful orchards and spirit of municipal energy and progress.

To the woman—because she would have her guests appreciate her attractive club house, accept her hospitality and enjoy her tasteful and artistic display of her beautiful flowers and plants.

To the child—because he has watched and cared for his pots of posies, has gathered, pressed and painted the wild flowers from the nooks and crannies in our shady canyons and sunny hills, and has done everything in his power to make our First Annual Flower Festival a success.

To "the stranger that is within our gates"—because he is proud to be known as a guest in our beautiful town at the foot of the grand old mountains, and because in his heart of hearts he hopes the Fates will kindly deal him a permanent residence among us.

Friends, are you ready for this, our greatest effort? You who have potted plants must have them registered with Mr. Irving Ward by April 1st, so the management can know how much space will be needed to save for the exhibit. Make an effort to enroll not only your own collection, but persuade your neighbor who is not so enthusiastic, to register his specimens be they many or few.

There will be classes for everything. Do not hesitate to enter your collection because it is not rare or expensive. The most common varieties of ferns and geraniums, roses or begonias will help make the club house beautiful and the Festival a success.

SAVE YOUR PALM BRANCHES

Palm branches of all kinds will be needed in large numbers as a part of the decorations for the Flower Festival. The committee on decorations has requested accordingly that all persons having palm trees in need of trimming leave the branches on the trees a few weeks longer and then give all the big leaves which can be spared for the purpose of aiding in the decorations.

The Audubon Society will meet at the home of Mrs. J. A. Osgood on West Grandin avenue on Monday, March 20, at 3 o'clock.

THE LOCKPORT PLAN

A New Development in Commission Government—A "City Manager," Like Private Corporations

The Board of Trade of Lockport, N. Y., is proposing an Optional Third Class Cities Law applicable to all the cities of the state under 50,000 population. In the explanatory pamphlet (obtainable for a stamp from Wm. A. Dickenson, secretary, at Lockport) the law is described as "The Board of Directors Plan" and is explained as follows:

"The power is all lodged in a council or five aldermen elected at large on non-partisan ballots for a term of four years subject to recall after six months. Nomination by petition, or by cash deposit returnable if candidate gets a specified proportion of the votes. Double election except for candidates who get a majority at the first election. The alderman receiving the highest vote is chairman and takes the honorary title of mayor but has no veto power. No other elective officers, except county supervisors. The initiative and referendum are provided for.

"The council hires a city manager who in turn appoints all other city employees subject to existing civil service rules. He is responsible to the council for all the work of the city, except the schools. He prepares the annual budget, an annual corporate stock budget, sits with the council as its secretary and is responsible for the execution of its ordinances and resolutions.

"The chief improvement in this act over previous commission plans is the creation of this city manager, thus completing the resemblance of the plan to the private business corporation with its well demonstrated capacity for efficiency. This gives the highly desirable single-headed executive in place of the five-headed western system where each member of the "commission" or council becomes head of a city department. It disposes of the confusion of responsibility inherent in the western plan where the board as a whole is responsible for all departments and each commissioner is also responsible for his own.

"This improved plan also frees the people from the necessity of trying to gauge the fitness of candidates to do executive and technical work as department heads. The people can elect true representatives, labor men for example, men who are typical leaders of numerically-important elements of the population and as they will only direct policies and will not personally execute them, the efficiency of the departments is less likely to be interfered with. Likewise the departments will not be subject to demoralization by needless changes of their chief executives, nor will they be at the mercy of the ignorance of some man who is elected on, say, a franchise issue, and finds himself obliged to learn and direct the details of city finance or street paving.

"The list of available candidates is widened immensely by the fact that the commissioners (aldermen) are not to be obliged to abandon private careers for what may be but a single term of office at the head of an unfamiliar and perhaps uncongenial department. They simply represent the people, at the city hall, with power to review, criticize, question and direct the work of the city manager, who is their creature. Those are conditions which will be attractive to the ablest brains in the community regardless of the small salary.

"This plan cannot be criticised as over-concentration of power, since it divides the power much more evenly than the present governments wherein the Mayor alone often holds over half of the total power of the city.

"The basic merit of the commission plan and the one that is responsible for its unquestioned success is that it is a workable form of democracy. It can be operated easily by the people without the aid of political machines, which under the old form are an indispensable arm of the government. The Short Ballot—only five to elect, all of them independent—is the gist of the plan."

This development of an appointive chief executive will be attacked by some provincials, no doubt, as an unheard-of innovation. The plan, however, has been almost universal on the European Continent and elsewhere for a hundred years. Staunton, Va., has had such a city manager for some years and reports that it is highly successful.

BY THE WAY

What is the use of luck if you don't know it when it comes to you? President Taft's weepy letter over the Ballinger resignation indicates that he does not recognize his good fortune in being rid of the gentleman with the whitewash coat.

It is to be hoped Pasadena will not lose the opportunity to get together for once on an important public enterprise. The high school bond election should be carried by a vote so decisive as to leave no doubt that the Crown City wants the very best of educational facilities. The site favored by the board of education for the new school is the Rose Villa tract on East Colorado street, not far from the city limits. This would be by far the most convenient for Sierra Madre pupils of the five sites offered. The new school is planned as a polytechnic school with practical agricultural instruction. The board of education will require at least twelve acres and the East Colorado street site contains several more, so that there will be practical outdoor instruction.

Brother Sherer of the Glendale News was able to attend a meeting of the County Press Association Monday for the first time since breaking his leg some three months ago. While all the boys had been feeling properly sympathetic over his affliction, none of them knew how the accident happened till he confessed that it resulted from an attempt to climb a persimmon tree on Sunday. Mention has already been made in this column of his theory regarding the regulation of the quantity and quality of poetical effusions by a properly arranged vegetable and fruit diet. He did not tell the boys just what mood he was hoping to induce in the muse when he started after the persimmons. The fact that he was off his feet for so long, however, after failing to reach the persimmons, might be taken to indicate some connection between that fruit and poetic meter.

The chief difference between the present legislature and its predecessors is not the character of the legislation enacted, but the fact that its work is merely the fulfillment of campaign pledges. It has been customary to promise most anything the people wanted and then to meet and do something else or nothing, with the sanction of the governor, of course. This legislature was elected after the adoption of radical progressive platforms by both parties. Now some people affect to be surprised at what is being done at Sacramento. To be sure the failure of previous legislatures to make good on party pledges affords some ground for such surprise. But let us hope that if the state ever returns to the railroad ruled type of legislature it will be only after a frank statement of the intentions of the candidates, so that the people will know what to expect.

The visit of Sylvia Pankhurst to Los Angeles justified the conclusion of the News that the tactics of the militant suffragettes need not be feared nor expected in California, being rather the result of conditions peculiar to England. California will do the square thing and grant women the ballot which is rightfully theirs without going through anything more strenuous than a campaign of quiet education. Miss Pankhurst has made the militant suffragette thousands upon thousands of friends in America. She spoke four times in and about Los Angeles, and each time she burst the bubble of prejudice against the women of England. Her lucid recital of a twentieth century oppression aroused her audiences to great feeling. The militant suffragette, she declares, is but a means to an end; she goes into the streets to sell papers—to make speeches—to interest the public—for but one reason, and that is to change conditions which are almost inconceivable. Women in England earn, on an average, $1.75 a week; thousands of them earn so pitiable a wage that their survival is to be wondered at. The marriage laws are so unjust to women, and divorce so difficult, that marriage is but a sad refuge for the working woman, and it is impossible to gain a hearing before the government without just such a demonstration as has been made by the English women who must have redress through the ballot, or become a twentieth century slave. Miss Pankhurst uses no dramatic tricks to fire her audiences; she dresses simply; she talks quietly, but her stories of imprisonment, of arrests and humiliating treatment at the hands of the police, and of the discrimination against women convince her hearers that the suffragette of England is the martyr of today.

DISTURBED BY ROWDIES

Complaints come from all parts of town of the disturbance caused by roistering mountain climbers who come out from Los Angeles and Pasadena on the night cars. The nuisance is particularly offensive in the neighborhood of Mountain Trail avenue from the end of the car line to the foot of the trail. The combination attraction of snow on the mountains and moonlight nights for climbing draws thousands of people in the course of a month to the Mount Wilson Trail. Not all of them are rowdies, but a good many of them could not be classified under any better name. Many young cubs who are probably harmless enough at home think they have to dress up in wild west fashion and carry a gun and a flask. The Saturday night cars out from Los Angeles are loaded with this kind, who make life miserable to decent passengers with their foolish attempts to appear hilarious or tough. By the time they reach Sierra Madre a good many of the youngsters are half drunk or imagine themselves to be so and when they alight from the cars they proceed to enact their conception of what a bad man in the wild west would do in their condition. And so far as noise is concerned the girls are not much better than the boys and men. Things have

CITY TRUSTEES MEET

Last week's meeting of the city trustees was adjourned from Thursday to Friday night on account of the annual meeting of the Water Company on the regular meeting night. About the only business of importance aside from routine matters was the appropriation of $250 for the use of the Board of Trade committee in charge of the Sierra Madre exhibit at the Land and Products Exposition in Shrine Auditorium, Los Angeles. The board was advised by Acting City Attorney E. F. Hughes that a city of the sixth class may devote five per cent of the receipts from property taxes to the purpose of town promotion and advertising.

ADIEU TO THE MORTGAGE TAX

The decision of Attorney General Webb, that no mortgages are to be assessed this year, probably marks the last of the taxation of mortgages after more than thirty years of disappointing experience. And yet, in principle, the taxation of mortgages as a property interest in the mortgaged property was absolutely sound. The only trouble was that in the application of that principle there was vexation, difficulty and injustice to the borrower, who may only propose while the lender disposes. But the difficulties encountered and injustices inflicted in the attempted to enforce the mortgage tax were inconsequential compared with the fiasco of imposing and collecting taxes upon personal property. The principle is all right, the application of it all wrong, and the attempt to tax personal property should be abandoned. With the abandonment of the tax on personal property should go the imposition of taxes upon improvements on real estate. The Watchman is not a single taxer, for he believes in tariff taxes for their own sake and in corporation taxes and taxes on incomes and inheritances as being well grounded in public policy, but so much of the single tax idea as appertains to taking for the benefit of all of us a share of that unearned increment which all of us create, is sound in principle, not difficult of application and should become a part of the taxation policy of all our cities and counties. A good beginning has been made in California in the system of reforming taxation, but it is only a beginning. There is need to push ahead with discussion and education until justice is done and a feasible policy of taxation has been worked out.—Pacific Outlook.

WILL PLAN WATER DEVELOPMENT

Following out the tentative agreement between the Water Company and the city, and acting under the authorization of the stockholders of the Water Company, work will be pushed as rapidly as possible in the development of more water. The directors of the company and the city trustees will hold a conference session next Monday evening to consider what steps should be taken first. The expense of whatever work is done will be borne by the company. In the event of the city voting to purchase the company's property this cost will be added to the agreed price of $96,000 to be paid for the plant as it now stands.

Proceedings looking to a special election to pass upon the purchase of the plant by the city will probably be held in abeyance until the condemnation suit pending against the Baldwin interest in the Little Santa Anita Canyon is settled. It had been hoped that suit could be pushed to a conclusion as soon as the Baldwin-Turnbull will contest was decided. But with City Attorney Madden out of the city and Senator Leslie R. Hewitt who had been his consulting attorney, in Sacramento till the close of the legislative session, things are somewhat up in the air.

JUST COMPLETED

PLAIN LANGUAGE BY THE COURT

When Mayor Gill of Seattle was trying to get the federal court to head off the operation of the recall, and his lawyers were putting up an elaborate argument for an injunction, the judge dismissed the complaint with these words: "We must not hunt for obscure reasons to thwart the will of the people." Verily, it is a refreshing utterance, and it describes to a dot the performance that is going on everywhere in the courts: the cooking up of elaborate and fantastic reasons why plain justice should not be done, why the guilty should not be punished, why the will of the people should not be carried out, why law should not be obeyed. And judges frequently become so fascinated with the ingenuity of the argument that they forget what the people put them there for, and do just the opposite of their duty.—Pacific Outlook.

AT THE THEATERS

Burbank

"Mary Jane's Pa," the delightful comedy by Edith Ellis which introduced the novel and lovable character of Hiram Perkins to the world, will be given its first stock production by any company at the Burbank theater next week, with A. Byron Beasley playing the part in which Max Figman starred for two years and reached his highest point of popularity. This will be next to the last appearance of Mr. Beasley in Los Angeles before he leaves for Chicago to play in the eastern production of "The Fox." "Mary Jane's Pa," the vagabond printer who is forgiven his weaknesses on account of his many lovable traits, is well known, but the story of how he came back and atoned for everything by his display of courage at the right time always has a strong appeal by reason of the many flashes of humor and the little touches of pathos here and there. There will be the usual matinees, including the new matinee Thursday.

BELASCO

"Under Two Flags"—always popular and always dramatic to an uncommon degree—will serve Lewis S. Stone and his associates of the Belasco company next week, with Mr. Stone in the role of Bertie Cecil and Marjorie Rambeau in the part of the daring and dashing Cigarette, and with every other member of the Belasco-Blackwood forces in the contributory roles.

"Under Two Flags" has never before engaged the attention of the Belasco-Blackwood organization and the production next week, according to managerial promise will be on a scale of exceptional completeness and elaborateness. Scenically, "Under Two Flags" should prove one of the most notable offerings the Belasco stage has ever known, for with the possibilities provided by the locale of the play, Scenic Artist Brunton's fine talents will find full scope for display and the Belasco audiences are certain to see a series of remarkable stage pictures. A small sized battalion of auxiliary players has been engaged to lend variety to the big scenes of the play while in the matter of costuming, too, the Belasco management avers that nothing will be left desired to make the production a strikingly brilliant affair.
